

Arrival of Finley Health Service's new healthcare worker accommodation units

Six units were delivered on the back of trucks and craned into place on site over two days, providing quite a show for those who had the opportunity to see it.

Installation of the units is now continuing, with connection of services, landscaping, and furnishing expected to be completed towards the end of November, ready for healthcare workers to move in before the end of the year.

Each fully furnished, self-contained unit features a light-filled living and dining area, modern kitchen with quality appliances, bedroom with robe and ensuite, an internal built-in laundry with a stacked washer and dryer and a screened verandah. One of the six units is wheelchair accessible. The exterior colours of the units were chosen to reflect the natural surrounding environment.

Information will continue to be provided during the infrastructure connection works about any direct impacts to staff, patients and visitors. For your safety, please be aware of extra activity on site and follow any directions during this time. We thank you for your patience while this important piece of infrastructure is installed.

Finley Health Service is the second Murrumbidgee Local Health District (MLHD) site to have key worker accommodation units installed under the NSW Government's $45.3 million Key Worker Accommodation (KWA) Program. The KWA Program is being delivered in partnership between Health Infrastructure and the MLHD.
